2021: A year of blessings

Reflectons on a time of challenge, triumph and change

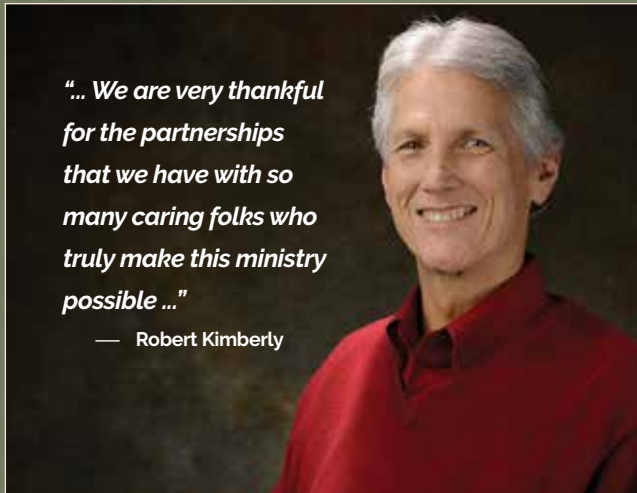

Dear friends and fellow partners in ministry,

As you can imagine, 2021 has been a wonderful, confusing, sad, productive, but also blessed year for Southeastern Children's Home. Several of our SECH family have lost loved ones and friends due to COVID-19. As we continue to maneuver through this pandemic, we all have had to make major life adjustments. Our children have experienced unprecedented changes, but to date have weathered the storm.

In 2021, SECH has also named a new Executive Director. Brad Brooks will begin his new role in the spring of 2022. I have every confidence that he will lead this ministry with the highest level of integrity, while also protecting our history and charting our future.

Additionally, 2021 has seen Christian residential childcare being demonized on both the federal and state levels. Eight group homes have closed in South Carolina this year alone. SECH continues our commitment - in spite of the government - to serve the most vulnerable children who desperately need stability, structure, and love.

However, 2021 has been a wonderful year for eight of our children. These eight children became Christians this year. They studied

"... We are very thankful for the partnerships that we have with so many caring folks who truly make this ministry possible ..."

— Robert Kimberly

and decided to give their lives to Jesus Christ. We could not be more pleased by each of their commitments.

For all of us, 2021 has been a year of highs, a year of lows, and also even more highs. We are very thankful for the partnerships that we have with so many caring folks who truly make this ministry possible. As we enter 2022, we pray that you will continue your prayers and support on behalf of the children.

May God bless each one of you.

Sincerely,

Robert Kimberly (handwritten signature)

ROBERT KIMBERLY
Executive Director

Calling Dr. Emily

Emily is an engaging young lady with a bright future. She excels in school and is focused. Emily is conscientious about the needs and well-being of others. She wants to be a helper. It makes sense, then, that she would like to be a doctor one day. We are proud of Emily and look forward to seeing where God leads her.

More than all we

By BRAD BROOKS

Associate Executive Director

Mother Theresa once said, "Never worry about numbers. Help one person at a time and always start with the person nearest you." Over the past year and a half, we have all been over-run with COVID-related numbers and statistics – case counts, pandemic-related hospitalizations, pandemic-related deaths, vaccines administered, the list goes on and on. And, frankly, it has been challenging not to worry about the numbers. But we know that no matter how we have been affected by all that has gone on in the world since March of last year, we serve a God who is bigger than the numbers; He is bigger than a pandemic, He is bigger than any worries or concerns we may face. We read in Ephesians that He is "able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine." Let those words sink in for a minute: "immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine." I don't know about you, but I can imagine quite a bit. Even with that, Paul tells us that our God can do immeasurably more than all of it. This thought is quite comforting.

He can do it all, and during 2021 at Southeastern Children's Home, we have seen more than a glimpse of that immeasurable ability at work. We celebrated the baptisms of 8 of our residents. We were able to return to Palmetto Bible Camp during the summer. We were able to take our program on our annual Beach Trip once again. The children have returned to regular face-to-face instruction at their respective schools. We continue to speak truth and love into the lives of hurting children and families throughout our community and our state. We have been tremendously blessed and continue to receive the generous support of churches and individuals just like you. Thank you so much for your support!

ask or imagine

Even with the challenges that COVID has brought, we continue to see good things happen, and God continues to bless our ministry every day.

The numbers and statistics we see can cause worry or concern, but we aim to continue to do what God has called us to do at Southeastern Children's Home – help one person at a time and start with those whom God has brought to us.

The sun also rises

By CURT HARBUCK

Director of Development

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future." Jeremiah 29:11

September 2, 2021, marked the completion of my first year as a part of the staff at Southeastern Children's Home; As you can imagine, this has been an unusual year. As I reflect today, we are more than 18 months into life with COVID-19. Disruptive understates the nature of this virus, yet through it all, you, the supporters of our children, have been faithful.

We experienced a respite this summer. That allowed us to resume a bit of normalcy. Our graduates enjoyed face-to-face ceremonies. The time at the beach was excellent for all who attended. All had a blast at Carowinds. Our boys were able to return to Palmetto Bible Camp. Our girls, unfortunately, were not to go to PBC - due to contact tracing. At church, we took off masks and had to put them back on as the Delta variant spiked. Our calendar of events was disrupted.

Our 31st Annual Benefit Auction became an online virtual auction. During this time, illness and loss affected everyone, even the SECH family. But through it all, we have continued together to minister to the children in our care

It has been my privilege to be with many of you face to face this year. You have come to see us and donate items to benefit our ministry. You have come to our facility to help us organize these donations. You have come to help us work at maintaining our buildings and property. You have welcomed me to visit person to person, and congregation to congregation.

And your generosity has remained incredible! We continue to have many committed churches and individuals who donate to our work regularly and monthly. Additionally, we have received gifts of property, a pop-up camper. We have received legacy gifts, and memorial gifts related to those who have met their reward.

Our work, our ministry, our calling thrives because of you. Thank you seems insufficient, yet I say it again, thank you!
